Courses in bold type meet the General Education requirements for Del Mar College Associate in Applied Science degrees.

Upon completion of RNSG 1118, RNSG 1128, RNSG 1324, the student will enter the 2nd year of the Associate in Applied Science degree plan. Fourteen (14) semester credit hours by Evaluation of Credentials are required for graduation.

Students pursuing the AAS - Registered Nurse Education degree plan must take Chemistry 1406N for CEUs (Continuing Education Units) prior to the co-requisite BIOL 2420 Microbiology and Clinical Pathology to comply with program requirements. The Chemistry 1406N CEU course may not meet the criteria for financial aid assistance; please check with the Financial Aid Office. If the student chooses to have the Chemistry 1406N CEU course converted to semester credit hours, a petition to record credit form must be completed by the student.
