AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT OF 1990, AS AMENDED

On September 25, 2008, the President signed the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act of 2008. The Act retains the ADA's basic definition of "disability" as an impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, a record of such impairment, or being regarded as having such an impairment; however, the ADAAA changes the way that these statutory terms should be interpreted. The effect of these changes is to make it easier for an individual seeking protection under the ADA to establish that he or she has a disability within the meaning of the ADA.

The ADAAA prohibits discriminatory action such as terminations, changes in benefits, demotions, transfer, suspensions, and disciplinary actions and requires a reasonable accommodation for employees, applicants, and applicant processes.
