

POINTS of PRIDE

2016-2017

A photograph of a male graduate in a blue cap and gown. He has a goatee and is smiling. His right arm is raised, with his index finger pointing upwards. He is wearing a silver watch and has a tattoo on his forearm. The background is blurred, showing other graduates in blue gowns.

DC DEL MAR
COLLEGE

Dreams. Delivered.®

Del Mar College is one of two community colleges in Texas and one of only 20 community colleges in the United States whose Fire Science Program is recognized for meeting the minimum standards of excellence established by Fire and Emergency Services Higher Education professional development committees and the National Fire Academy.

Source: U.S. Fire Administration

Only 10% of American workers have the right associate degree needed for middle-skills jobs, compared with 24% of Canadian workers and 19% of Japanese workers.

Source: The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development

In May 2014, the Surgical Technology Program's graduates achieved a 100% pass rate on their first attempt at the national Certified Surgical Technologist Examination.

With an Associate in Applied Science degree in Aviation Maintenance, DMC graduates make upwards of $57,000 a year during their first year of employment, which is $6,000 above the state average.

Source: Sky is the limit on aviation maintenance career success by Saga Briggs, Houston Chronicle August 15, 2013

In May 2017, the DMC Regional Police Academy graduated eight cadets with 100% passing the TCLOE state licensure exam to become Basic Peace Officers. Their accomplishment makes the group the 17th class in a row to complete the exam with a 100% pass rate.

Texas officials confirm that the median income for Del Mar College Business, Occupational and Technical graduates is $57,221 the first year after they graduate. That is $6 thousand more than the state average.

Source: Higher Education Pays, the Initial Earnings of Graduates of Texas Public Colleges and Universities, published by College Measures Economic Success Metrics, 2013. CollegeMeasures.org

Del Mar College ranked 47 in the nation for the number of Vocational Nursing Associate Degrees and 28 in the nation for the number of Science Technology Associate Degrees.

Source: Rankings published by Community College Week, Aug. 2015, based on U. S. Department of Education Data

Four-fifths of technical and occupational programs with graduates taking state licensure or certification examinations held passing rates of 90% or higher for the 2013-2014 academic year. Twelve of those 20 programs held passing rates of 100%.

Source: DMC Licensure/Certification Program Checklist for Students Attempting Examinations in 2013-2014, Strategic Planning and Institutional Research

Based on the Del Mar College Foundation's 2012 performance, the organization is ranked in the Top 100 Public Two-year Colleges for Annual Fund Raising Success, the equivalent of the Fortune 100. Researchers reviewed more than 850 higher education support foundations with DMCF ranking No. 98 for total assets and No. 57 for the amount of annual funds raised as reported for 2012.

Source: Two-year college advancement research study by Dr. William R. Crowe, Senior Faculty and Director of the University of Georgia Center for Continuing Education (wcrowe@georgiacenter.uga.edu)

More than a century of Accreditation:

- Art program—accredited by the National Association of Art and Design
- Drama program—accredited by the National Association of Theatre
- Music program—accredited by the National Association of Music

Source: Respective accreditation agencies

298 full-time faculty, 84% hold masters or doctoral degrees

Source: Statistical Profile 2015/2016

10 Piper Professors, classroom instructional excellence award.

Source: Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation, 2010

Del Mar College ranks 39 among all higher education on the number of Hispanics receiving an Associate Degree. That number grew 25% from 2013 to 2014, totaling 662 students the previous year.

Del Mar College also ranked 89 among all higher education on the total number of minority students receiving an Associate Degree.

Rankings published by Community College Week, Aug. 2015, based on U. S. Department of Education Data

of National Fine Arts

edited since 1991 by iation of Schools of

accredited since 2005
ociation of Schools of

accredited since 1948
ociation of Schools of

ng agencies

Del Mar College is among the top 100 colleges and universities with more first-response and emergency management programs than any others in the country.

Source: FireScience.org – 100 Colleges where Graduates Save Lives, 2013

Del Mar College is among the top 90 colleges and universities where graduates who become Fire Science professionals can expect annual incomes five times the cost of one year of school.

Source: FireScience.org – 90 Fire Science Degree Programs that Really Pay Off, 2013

HIGHLIGHTS

2016-2017

Del Mar College was listed among 19 other community colleges in Texas as one of the 2017 Military Friendly Schools.
Source: Militaryfriendly.com

The average DMC grad salary early in their career is $42,000, reaching over $60,000 at mid-career.

Source: www.payscale.com/college-salary-report/best-schools-by-state/2-year-colleges/texas

Del Mar College has been ranked 3rd in Texas for 2017 Best Online Colleges by Accredited School Online.

Source: accreditedschoolsonline.org, 2017

Del Mar College has been recognized as one of "Texas' Best Community Colleges for Workforce Training."

Source: April 2016 issue of Southern Business and Development

With the use of Civitas Learning, Del Mar College catapulted past a 5% target to increase graduation applications by attaining a 26% increase from Spring 2016 to Spring 2017, boosting those applications from 687 to 865—working under a U.S. Department of Education Title V grant aimed at increasing Hispanic graduation applications.
Source: www.civitaslearningspace.com/del-mar-college-boosts-graduation-applications-26-percent/

Nearly 30% of Americans with associate degrees now make more than those with bachelor's degrees.

Source: Georgetown University Center on Education and the Workforce

Over an adult's working life, high school graduates earn an average of $1.2 million; associate's degree holders earn about $1.6 million, earning them $400,000 more than someone with just a high school diploma.

Source: U.S. Census Bureau

A two-year community college degree, at present full rates, costs about $6,262. A bachelor's degree from a four-year, private residential university goes for $158,072.

Source: College Board

29 million jobs paying middle class wages today require only an associate's and not a bachelor's degree.

Source: Georgetown University Center on Education and the Workforce

DATA POINTS

DEL MAR
COLLEGE

Dreams. Delivered.[®]
www.delmar.edu